

Tower 6
600 Hamilton Street, #700
Allentown, PA 18101
citycentergrp.com

Jack Reilly
Project Manager
City Center Group Development

jreilly@citycentergrp.com

Jack Reilly is a Project Manager for City Center Group Development. In that role, he is part of a core team that oversees the initiation, planning, and execution of the company's development projects throughout the Lehigh Valley. Mr. Reilly also serves as a development liaison, working in conjunction with commercial tenants, architects, engineers, and construction managers to deliver quality properties, including residential communities, Class A office space, and hospitality and retail spaces. A graduate of Lafayette College, where he received a bachelor's degree in history. Mr. Reilly joined CCG as an associate project manager following his graduation.

About City Center Group

Based in Allentown, Pa., City Center Group is a visionary real estate development and management company known for its expertise in creating vibrant, connected areas by combining Class A properties with placemaking and community-building experiences.

The company's major mixed-use development in downtown Allentown has helped transform the city into a regional center of excellence for business, recreation, and city living. With 3 million square feet among five Class A office towers, the Renaissance Allentown Hotel, 14 residential buildings, and upscale retail and restaurant space, City Center Group's total investment in downtown Allentown is more than $850 million with another $537 million in planning and construction. The Downtown Allentown Revitalization District was honored with a Global Award of Excellence by the Urban Land Institute (ULI).